++ The rewards of tolerance
are treachery and betrayal ++

Acolytes. You are now aboard the lighter heading to orbit and the merchant vessel awaiting you in orbit. This is as I desire for our old 'friend' the Churgeon has resurfaced. I have received a few reports of strange activity on the planet Solomon in the Hive Gloriana. These reports are suggestive of the same heresy that you discovered here on Scintilla in the Corscarla Division.

We must approach with care, if the Churgeon or any of her agents catch wind of your approach they will scatter into the shadows. I therefore am insisting that you keep all your Inquistorial ties secret. You shall receive no official backing on this task, nor are you permitted to declare yourself as acolytes or use the rosette of the Inquisition. I fear doing so may just send the Churgeon deeper into hiding.

After all these months my other agents have discovered a possible base of operations of the Churgeon in Hive Gloriana among the middle spires. I can say no more now for fear of discovery. However, when you land on the planet seek the establishment known simply as The Smoke Chamber. Once there ask the owner for 'A pinch of Ghostflower pollen.', he will tell you more.

I leave the results of your investigation, and the fate of the Churgeon, in your capable hands. Do not disappoint me.

Good luck and the Blessing of the Golden Throne on you all.

Inquisitor Sand.
